Automated Decisions Using You Information

Occasionally, we use systems to make automated decisions based on personal information we have – or have been allowed to collect from others – about you or your business making sure our decisions are quick, fair, efficient and correct, based on what we know.

These are the types of automated decision we make:

Fraud detection

We may use your personal information to help decide if your personal or business accounts may be used for fraud and/or money-laundering. If we detect that an account is being used in ways that fraudsters work or notice that an account is being used in a way that is unusual for you or your business, we may stop activity on the accounts or refuse access to them.

Opening of account/s

When transacting with us, we will check that the product or service is suitable for you based on what we know about you. We also check that you or your business meets the conditions needed to open the account, which may include checking age, residency, nationality or financial position.

Credit approval

We use a system to decide whether to lend money to you, or your business when you apply for credit such as a loan in order to pay your premium by instalments. This is known as credit scoring. This is used to predict how likely you are to pay back any money you borrow by looking at your past data and similar accounts you may have had before.

Credit scoring uses data from three sources:

Data we may already hold

Your application forms

Credit reference agencies

We use this assessment to help us make responsible lending decisions that are fair and informed. These credit scoring methods are tested regularly to make sure they are fair and unbiased.

Your Rights

You have rights over these automated decisions. You can ask that we do not make our decision based on the automated score alone and instead ask that a person reviews it.

If you need more information about these rights, please contact us.

Credit Reference Agencies (CRAs)

When you apply for a product or services for you or your business we must carry out credit and identity checks. Sometimes we use Credit Reference Agencies to help us with this. From time to time we may search information that the CRAs have, to help us manage accounts and services that you use.

We will exchange personal information with CRAs about you. The data we exchange can include:

- Name, address and date of birth
- Financial situation and history
- Public information, for example from electoral register and Companies House.

We use this data to:

- See whether you or your business can afford repayments
- Check what you've told us is true and accurate
- Help detect and prevent financial crime
- Manage your accounts
- Recover debts
- Make sure that we tell you about relevant offers.

We will carry on sharing your personal information with CRAs while you are a customer which will include details about your settled accounts with us and any debts not fully repaid on time.

CRAs will make a note on your credit file when we ask about you or your business. This is known as a credit search which can be seen by other lenders, we may also see credit searches from other lenders.

There are more details about the Credit Reference Agency Information Notice on CRAs websites which includes details about:

- Who they are
- How they help to prevent fraud
- How they use and hold data
- How they share personal information
- How long they keep data
- Your rights to data protection

Fraud Prevention Agencies (FPAs)

We use FPA's to help us with the following:

- Confirming your identity
- Prevent fraud and money-laundering
- Fulfil contracts you or your business has with us.

Before providing you with products and/or services, we may need to confirm your identity. Even after you become our customer, we will need to share your personal information with FPA's. We or a FPA may permit law enforcement agencies to access your personal information to support their requirement to identify, investigate and prevent criminal activity.

The time that FPAs can keep personal information will vary according to their requirements. If they find a risk of fraud or money-laundering, they can keep your data for up to six years.

Fraud Prevention Using Automated Tools

If we notice that an account has had some unusual activity or activity that is similar to how fraudsters work, we and FPAs may process your personal information in systems that look for fraud by studying patterns in the data. These may indicate a possible risk of fraud or money-laundering.

What next?

If there is a risk of fraud detected by us or an FPA, we may stop or block activity on the accounts. In these cases, FPAs will keep records of the potential risk that you or your business may have.

Information We Use

Personal information that we use:

- Name
- Date of birth
- Residential address and residential address history
- Contact details: email addresses and phone numbers
- Financial information
- Information about you or your businesses products or services
- Employment details
- Vehicle details
- Information identifying computers/devices used to connect to the internet, including your Internet Protocol (IP) address.

This may result in other organisations refusing to provide you with products or services, or to employ you.

Data Transfers Out of the EEA

The Reich Group do not generally transfer personal information outside of the EEA. If we are ever required to send your personal information outside of the EEA it would be for the following reasons:

- Comply with a legal duty
- Necessary for the performance of a contract
- To help run your accounts and services

If You Choose Not to Give Personal Information

Data collection that is optional will be clearly stated when collected. However, if you decide not to share required personal data with us, it may delay or stop us from meeting our obligations. This can also mean that we cannot perform services needed to place and administer your insurances. We are required to collect certain personal information by law, and/or under the terms of a contract we have with you. By not sharing the required data with us may mean that we may cancel a product or service you have with us.

How Long We Keep Your Personal Information

We will keep your personal information for as long as you are a customer of the Reich Group of Companies.

After you stop being a customer, we may keep your data for up to 7 years for one of these reasons:

- To respond to any questions or complaints.
- To show that we treated you fairly.
- To maintain records according to rules that apply to us.

We may keep your data for longer than 7 years if we cannot delete it for legal, regulatory or technical reasons.

How to Get a Copy of Your Personal Information

You can access the personal information we hold by writing to us at this address: Reich House, 197-203 Chapel Street, Manchester, M3 5EQ.

If you think Your Personal Data Is Incorrect?

If you think we may have information about you that is incorrect or wrong, you have the right to question and raise this with us. Please contact us if you want to do this, we will take reasonable steps to check its accuracy and correct it.

Your Rights to Stop Us Using Your Personal Information?

We may need to keep your data for legal or official reasons, but you can inform us if you think that we shouldn't be using it. You can object to us using your data or to have it deleted and removed if you think there is no reason for us to have it. This is now recognised as the 'right to object', the 'right to erasure' or the 'right to be forgotten'.

We can sometimes limit the use of your data. This will mean that your data will only be used for specific things like legal rights and legal reasons. In this case, we will not use or share your information in additional ways while it is restricted.

You have the right to ask for your personal data to be restricted if you think:

- It is not correct.
- It you think it has been used unlawfully, but you do not want it deleted.
- It is no longer relevant, but you want us to keep it for a legal claim.

- You are waiting for us to confirm if we are allowed to keep on using it but you have already asked us to stop using your data.

If you want us to stop using your personal data for any of the above cases, please contact us.

How You Can Withdraw Your Consent

You have the right to withdraw your consent at any time so please let us know if you wish to withdraw consent. It may not always be possible to provide certain products or services to you if you do but we can confirm this with you.

How to Make a Complaint

If you are unhappy or unsatisfied with why and how we have used your personal data, you can contact us by sending an e-mail to info@reichinsurance.co.uk, or by writing to us at this address:

Reich House, 197-203 Chapel Street, Manchester, M3 5EQ

You also have the right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office. Find out on their website how to report a concern.

Formats for Sharing Data

From the 25th of May 2018, you have the right to obtain your personal information from us in a format that can be easily re-used or ask us to pass on your personal information in this format to other organisations.
